SIZES (All measurements are diameter, or across) Large, 1 1/4" and up; Medium, 3/4" to 1 1/4"; Small, 3/8" to 3/4".

WHAT SIZE SHALL I BUY? The large size will, of course, make the best spikes and give the best results; however, if you wish to economize, the medium size will give excellent results, especially if they are fed and watered. They will bloom to the last bulb and make a good-sized spike, although the flower head may not be as long as that of the large size.

GLADIOLUS CULTURE

First of all have good bulbs to start with. Gladiolus can be planted as early in the spring as the ground can be worked and up to the last of June. By planting at intervals the blooming season can be continuous from June until freezing weather.

FERTILIZING While glads will respond fine on good rich garden soil they should not be fertilized heavily. A heavy application of fertilizer not only doesn't seem to help them, it sometimes actually seems to harm them. If you think something should be put on, give them a light application of commercial fertilizer or a little manure, but do not allow any of either to come in contact with the bulbs.

SOIL Any kind of soil should do. They do not like wet feet, so it should be well drained. A little water will help and on well drained soil give them a lot of water as they come into bloom and you will be amply rewarded with lots of fine long spikes.

Do not plant near strong growing plants or trees. They will rob the soil of moisture and plant food. SPRAY OR DUST when the glads are about ten inches high and repeat every week or ten days until just before they bloom. Five per cent DDT is about the simplest and best.

CUT THE FLOWERS if you want to, but leave four leaves to produce the bulb.

DIG a month or so after blooming or later if they are still green. Do not pile bulbs more than four inches deep. Dust with DDT lightly.

STORE them in screen bottom trays or hang them up in mesh bags. The main thing is to get plenty of air circulation.

DRY in an airy place. Heat will help you to remove the moisture. When dry (two or three weeks) remove the roots and dust again with DDT. After another two or three weeks of drying store for winter in a cool airy place. Keep from freezing.

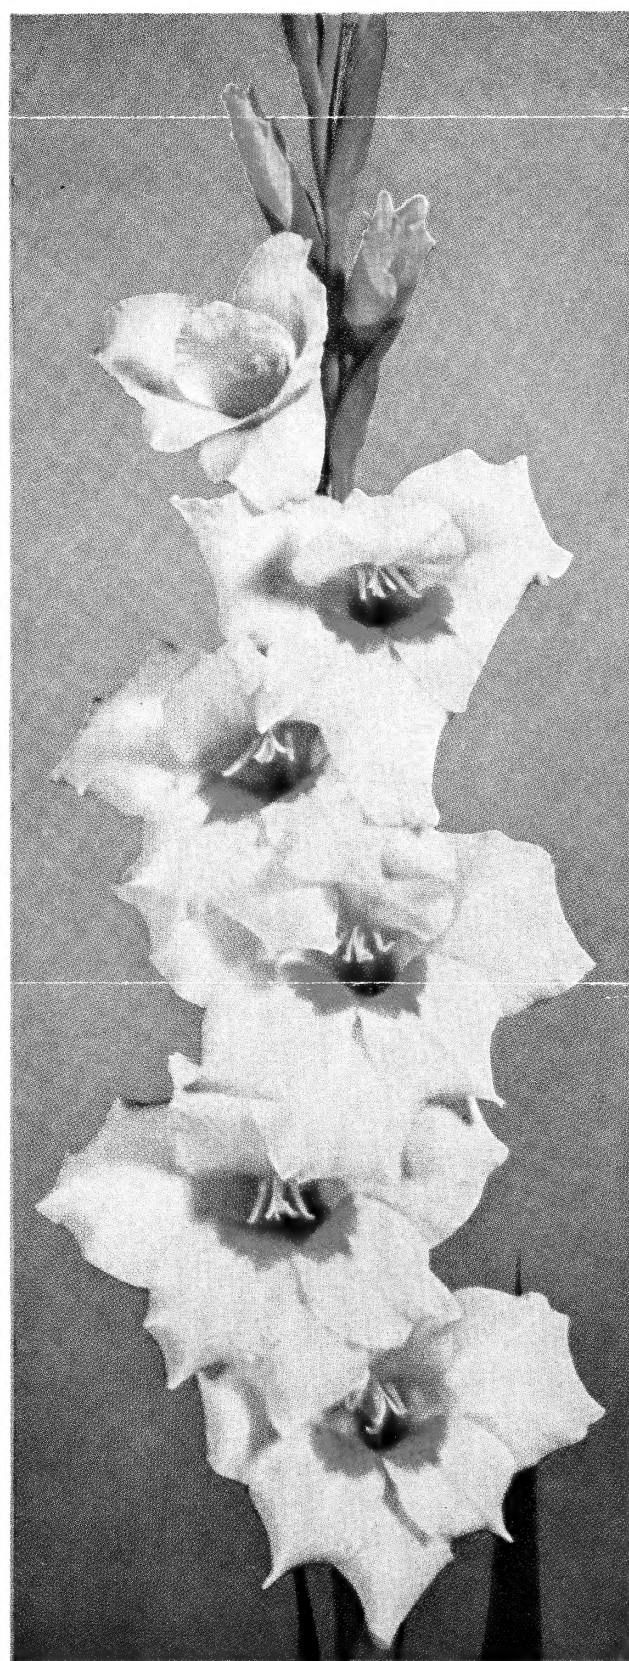

BEFORE planting it is well, though not essential, to dip the bulbs in a solution of Lysol, one tablespoonful per gallon of water, for three hours.

THE FIRST OF THE ALL-AMERICA GLADIOLUS SELECTIONS

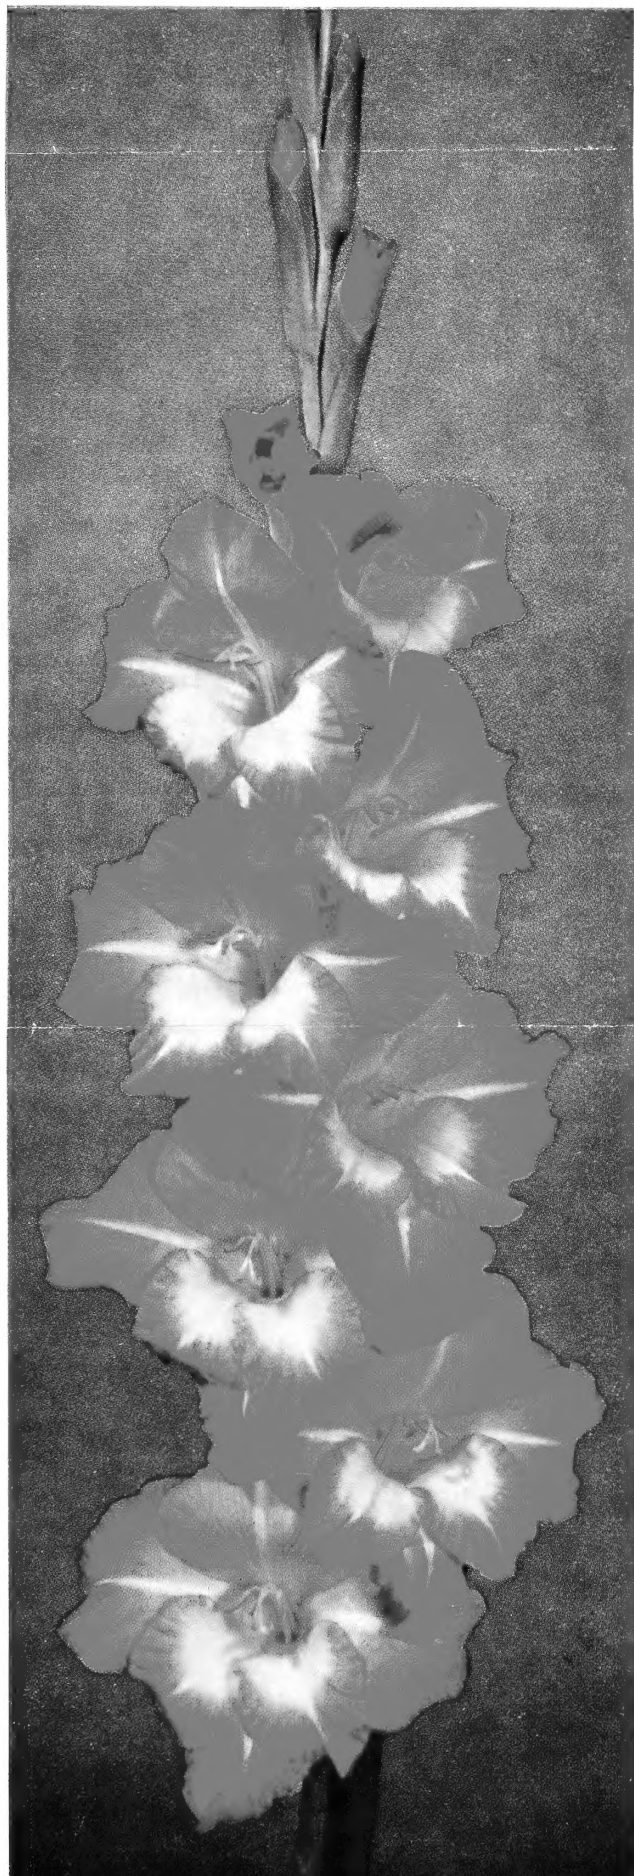

The 1956 Selections

ROYAL STEWART (450) (Pommert)

This variety truly deserves being the first All-America selection. The lightly ruffled florets are 5 inches in diameter and are of good substance. They are clear light red and the long flower heads will carry up to 12 open at a time. Plants are about 5 feet high. Growth is vigorous and healthy. We do not hesitate to recommend this one.

APPLEBLOSSOM (60) (Baerman-Fischer)

The delicate coloring of this glad will make it a perennial favorite. It is mostly white with a faint touch of cream in the throat and an exquisite flush or corona of cool rose pink at the edges of the petals. Eight or 10 trim 5-inch florets of heavy substance are open at a time on spikes up to 5 feet tall. It is a vigorous grower and will give you a new conception of gladiolus beauty when you see it bloom.

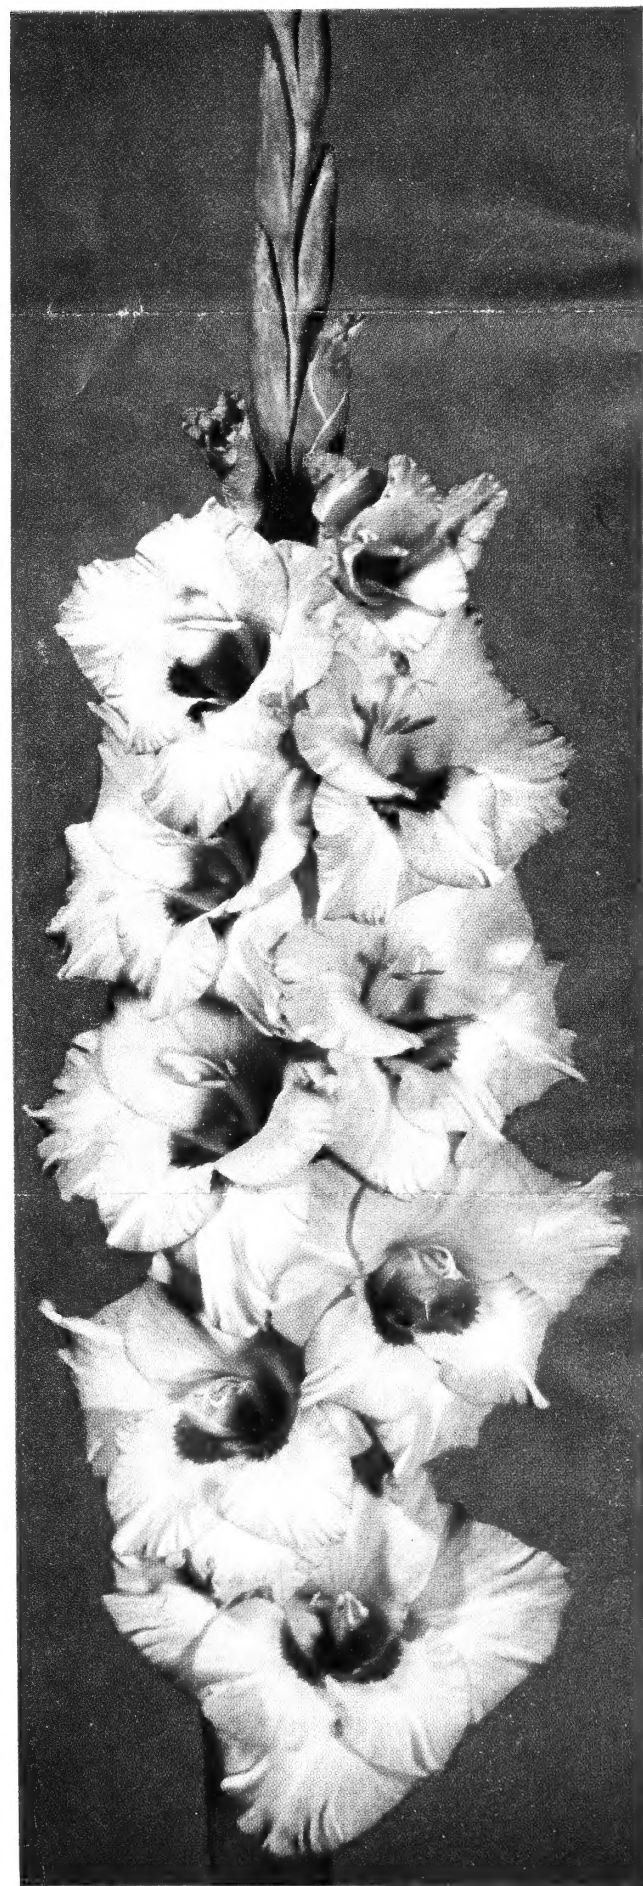

The 1957 Selections

MAYTIME (Baerman-Fischer)

Ruffled deep pure pink with contrasting large white throat. Eight to 10 open florets on 5½-foot spikes. An ideal flower for cutting or exhibition.

CARIBBEAN (Baerman-Fischer)

An unusual combination of rare blue-violet petals handsomely embellished with a rich deep violet throat and a small cream spear. Opens from 9 to 11 precisely styled florets at one time in formal double-row placement.
